Re Item V

Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Reference is made to the following document:

D1: US-B-6 319 0101 (KIKINIS DAN) 20 November 2001 (2001-11-20)

2. Document D1 is regarded as the closest state of the art and discloses a master and a slave communication device and a method of operating them. The slave device is disguised as an everyday object (eg. a doll), and two-way communication is enabled between the devices.

3. Problem:

If the user of the slave device knows the voice of the user of the master device, the illusion of communicating with the everyday device will be broken.

4. Solution:

The voice from the master device is disguised by circuitry in the slave communication device.

5. None of the available prior art documents discloses or suggests the proposed solution. Independent claims 1, 18 and 26 all having the inventive feature must therefore be regarded as being new and inventive (Article 33(2) and (3) PCT).

This also applies to the dependent claims.
